

Think! You can spend the entire day, Thursday, shop-with and saving money like mad on all your holiday requirements. We admit that even the balmiest Memorial Day spent shopping with us wouldn't compare with a day in Los Vegas, but it certainly would be a lot cheaper... again, if you'd rather spend Memorial Day lazing around your back yard, you'll still have Friday, Saturday, and Sunday to come into the market and do your saving. No matter which day you choose to shop this weekend, you can't help getting great big values here.

JOHN FOLLEY ... he's looking
BARBARA FOLLEY ... she's missing

UNDERCOVER AGENT
LOOKING FOR WIFE

John Folley, 28, who's worked as a private eye and undercover agent in Chicago, Florida, and Los Angeles, doesn't know where his wife is.
Barbara Folley, 22, has been missing now four weeks to the day.
Folley, who lives in a trailer at 2414 Pacific Coast hwy., said that the last time he saw her was Thursday night, May 9, when she took their car to go to a girl friend's house.
At 1:30 in the morning she phoned from Avalon and Pacific Coast hwy., asking him to come and get her.
When he got there, no car and no wife. Three days later he located the car about four miles from the spot.
Folley said he has no idea where or with whom she might be. About one week after she left, she apparently came back to the trailer while he was gone and took her clothes and the TV.
Folley, who is working for a gas station now, said that he used to do a lot of confidential undercover work, getting the goods on people involved in marital trouble.
"She seemed as if she was happy," he said of his wife.
"We've been married three years. She's from Gary, Indiana, and I'm from Harlem, Kentucky. We've lived here 15 months. I met her in Chicago when I was a plain clothesman.
She was working out here at a car wash. I can't understand it.
I wonder where she is."

Couple Crash Airplane in Nearby Field

Mrs. Donna Belle Brown, 35, of Inglewood, and Cecil Springer, 29, of El Segundo, were treated at Harbor General hospital for cuts and internal injuries this week after her light airplane crashed in a field north of Sepulveda Blvd. and West of Madrona ave. last Friday evening.
Mrs. Brown told Officer Oates that she was flying the Culver Cadet about 2000 feet over Redondo Beach when the engine failed. She tried to glide to a landing at Torrance Municipal airport but lost altitude too rapidly, she said.
The couple had left from Hawthorne Municipal airport in a 1941 model plane which, according to Mrs. Brown, underwent a mechanical checkup only three days prior to the smashup.
